Property Description

This exceptional income property spans over 25 hectares (62 acres) of pristine forest, creating a natural paradise for sustainable living and potential business ventures. With three upper course rivers flowing through the property, it benefits from pure mountain water and is adorned with three picturesque waterfalls, enhancing its natural beauty. The higher altitude location brings fresh temperatures and abundant resources, making sustainable living a viable option. Originally established as a retreat center in Tinamastes, this property has gained a reputable reputation for promoting well-being and harnessing the unique energy of the surroundings. However, the potential of this location extends beyond its current use. Situated between 1400 and 2000 feet above sea level, the property enjoys a pleasant climate with cool mountain breezes. The fertile designated gardening land has been organically maintained for over 15 years, providing an ideal space for creating a permaculture garden that brings joy and abundance.
